ASENACA CASTILLO KOMAINALOVO
Fijian Artist

Asenaca Marama Castillo trading as Cannibal Souvenirs operates her business from her home in Nadi. She was married to the late Antonio Castillo who was the creator and designer of this business and its products. Her husband passed away on 28th November, 2013 due to cancer and now she has inherited to continue to run the business.

"With the assistance of my 6 staffs employed with the knowledge and skills taught by my late husband, I am confident to endure and operate this business with great satisfaction of where my passion and interest lies"

She owns a small handicraft business that produces crafted products made out local sourced materials such as coconut shells, sea shells, magimagi, masi or tapa, local seeds and vau. Her crafted products consist of cannibal coconut dolls in five (5) different patterns, photo frames, maps, tapa prints, pen holders, paper weights etc.

Cannibal Souvenirs supplies its products on wholesale to three main companies such as Jacks of Fiji, Tappoo, Motibhais and few hotels in Nadi and also operates a stall in the Flea Market in Nadi Town.
